FISCAL ANALYSIS

ASSUMPTION

Officials with the Department of Revenue and State Tax Commission assume this proposal would have no fiscal impact on their agencies.

Oversight assumes this proposal would prohibit taxpayers from concurrently claiming both a circuit breaker tax credit and the homestead property tax exemption. Single claimants age 65 or older, married claimants with one spouse age 65 or older and the other spouse age 60 or older, or claimants that are 100% disabled are eligible for either credit provided that they own their home and that their income is below $25,000 for single claimants or $27,000 for married claimants filing a combined return.

Oversight assumes that as a result of this proposal, taxpayers eligible for both credits would choose the circuit breaker credit and the greater benefit it would most often allow. Thus, state reimbursements to political subdivisions for property tax revenue losses would decrease.

In a fiscal note from the 2004 regular session (2966-13/Truly Agreed To and Finally Passed CCS for HS for HCS for SS for SCS for SB 730), Oversight assumed a state reimbursement to political subdivisions for the homestead property tax exemption of $1.4 million in FY07. Using the same methodologies with an income upper limit of $25,000 (rather the $70,000 limit the homestead exemption allows), the estimated decrease in state reimbursements for property tax revenue losses would be approximately $570,000 in FY07.

In alternate, non-assessment years (beginning in FY08) when the exemption limit for homestead property tax increases would be 2.5%. Oversight is unable to speculate the rate at which local political subdivisions will increase their property tax rates in 2007 (FY08), however, it is assumed that rate of state reimbursements to political subdivisions would decrease in non-assessments as would any savings resulting from this proposal.

Note: Homestead property tax exemption reimbursements are subject to appropriation, per Section 137.106, RSMo.

DESCRIPTION

This legislation mandates that a taxpayer shall not be allowed a (circuit breaker) property tax credit if the taxpayer filed a valid homestead property tax credit claim in the year following the year for which the property tax credit is claimed.

This legislation is not federally mandated, would not duplicate any other program and would not require additional capital improvements or rental space.
